3.Topic recommendations for future classes

(6/9) 67% answered

-Enjoyed first 3 classes. Got completely lost on class 4.

-More interaction with other participants and some experiential activities.

-Thriving while aging

-Maybe class discussion around personal transitions such as career change, starting a new job, marriage, having a child, the death of a loved one, some transitions that are planned for, others not

-Presenting the ego as the source of our problems is only a first step...and for me, is itself, a problem...

-Maybe a suggestions for further readings, TED talks that speak to the subject.

4. Suggestions for improving the class and presentation in general?

(5/9) 56% answered

-Bigger room

-None

-Serving oneself and serving others was something touched on in the class. I would have liked more time for others to comment on how that had occurred in their own lives.

-I appreciated how you kept reviewing the basic concepts for our senior minds and I would only suggest that you present less material so you would slow the pace somewhat.

-Larger screen.

6. How did you like the class discussion opportunities and what could have made it better?

(8/9) 89% answered

-Wen site needs stream lining

-Too short

-It was great

-It enriched the video and Ronnie's personal information. I can't think of anything that would have made it better.

-Better to give more time than to rush through with such profound questions right off the bat...

-Allowed more time for the students to talk

-The discussion is what kept me coming back.

-A way of opening up the class, maybe add zoom members.

7. Final thoughts

(9/9) 100% answered

- Class 4 formalized personal philosophy that was hard to understand
- Great class and so enjoyed the interaction between Ronni and the group. Kept things moving.
- Looking forward to continuing dialogue with this group!
- I enjoyed the class and appreciated the chance to get to know some of the people better.
- I loved this class for the opportunity to speak our truth, my truth, your truth. Thank you so much...
- Great class, however I feel it could be shortened by 1/2 hour.
- There was a sweetness to the topic
- Keep doing the class. Even if you present the same material, with different people having conversation, the class will be different.
- Thank you Ronnie, I enjoyed the class and will be checking in on the website.
